

Prevent, Treat, Educate Conference

Working Together to Reduce HIV, STDs, Viral Hepatitis and TB in Alaska

May 8-10, 2017
at the
BP Energy Center

The Alaska Native Tribal Health Consortium's HIV/STD Prevention Program is inviting public health professionals and health care providers to a conference on how to best reach, treat and educate those at greatest risk for HIV and STDs, viral hepatitis and TB infections in Alaska.

This conference expands the Clinical STD Update that has been hosted by the University of Washington STD Prevention Training Center to a three-day conference that will also welcome providers from the behavioral, medical, social service and education fields.
